

KPLI KENTUCKY PHYSICIANS LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE GRADUATE HIGHLIGHTS

Wayne Tuckson, M.D.

UofL Physicians - Colorectal Surgery Associates

- KPLI Class of 2018
- 2018 President Greater Louisville Medical Society
- Host of KET's Kentucky Health
- GLMS Board Chair
- Co-Host/Moderator in Prescription for Health: A KET Forum filmed at 2019 KMA Annual Meeting
- KMA Community Connector Leadership Program Graduate

Monalisa Tailor, M.D.

Internal Medicine Physician at Norton Community Medical Associates – Barret, Louisville

- KPLI Class of 2017
- Vice Speaker, KMA House of Delegates
- President-Elect Greater Louisville Medical Society
- Moderator for the 2018 KPLI cohort dinner
- Recipient of Louisville Business First 2019 Young Leaders Award
- Leadership Louisville participant

"Physicians, through a program like KPLI, can serve as a voice to care for and advocate for our patients and become part of the decision-making process whether that is in our respective health care systems or with our lawmakers. I have utilized many of the communication skills we garnered from KPLI and use them daily in my conversations with my patients and with staff."

Monalisa Tailor, M.D.

Angela Dearing, M.D., MPH, FACP, FAAP

Assistant Dean of Accreditation with the Graduate Medical Education office, Associate Professor in the Department of Internal Medicine in the University of Kentucky College of Medicine

- KPLI Class of 2018
- 2019 Kentucky's Public Health Commissioner
- Member of Kentucky Board of Medical Licensure
- Lexington Medical Society Secretary/Treasurer
- Featured in KMA Public Health Minute videos

"The learning opportunities were thought-provoking, relevant, and self-reflective. Participating in the program gave me a chance to reflect on areas where I could improve my leadership skills, and how to go about improving. The best part of the program, though, was working and learning with fabulous physician colleagues from across Kentucky!"

Angela Dearing, M.D., MPH, FACP, FAAP

Mamata Majmundar, M.D., CPE, FAAFP

Medical Director at Aetna, A CVS Health Company

- KPLI Class of 2017
- KMA Community Connector Leadership Program graduate
- President Lexington Medical Society
- Moderator for 2018 KPLI Cohort Dinner
- Featured in KMA Focus on Flu Mythbuster videos
- KMA Community Connector Leadership Program Graduate

"The KMA and KFMC invested in providing the KPLI with the necessary infrastructure to create a functional system and a supportive environment. It paid off. This allowed participants to grow and improve their effectiveness as leaders working together for meaningful change."

Mamata Majmundar, M.D., CPE, FAAFP

James L. Borders, M.D.

Chief Medical Officer for Baptist Health Lexington

- KPLI Class of 2017
- President Elect Lexington Medical Society
- Chair, KMA Continuing Medical Education Council
- Appointed to Kentucky Board of Pharmacy and Therapeutics Advisory Committee
- Featured in KMA Focus on Flu video
- KMA Community Connector Leadership Program Graduate

Tuyen T. Tran, M.D., MBA

Internal Medicine and Addiction Medicine Physician at Veterans Affairs Medical Center in Lexington

- KPLI Class of 2017
- 2018 Lexington Medical Society President
- Appeared on WDKY-TV to promote Focus on the Flu campaign
- KMA Community Connector Leadership Program Graduate
- Founder of treatment recovery center
- 10th District Trustee for KMA Board of Trustees

"KPLI succeeded in teaching the soft skills (relationship building, emotional intelligence) which are required to effectively develop leaders to serve as team builders, motivators, communicators, and change agents for organizations."

Tuyen T. Tran, M.D., MBA

A PROGRAM OF

Kentucky Foundation
for Medical Care

KMA
KENTUCKY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION